THE WHOLE PRICE

$250 an hour

Twelve lunch boxes are included. So are the tables, the chairs, the linen, a host who stays for your whole block, the setup and the cleaning.

Two hours is $500. Three hours is $750. Four hours is $1,000.

For the meeting that cannot stop for lunch

A hot buffet is a good thing, but it takes twenty minutes and a line. Some meetings do not have twenty minutes. A training session, a board meeting, a closing, an all-day interview loop: people eat at the table and keep working.

So every box is sealed, labeled on the lid with what is inside, and set out before your block starts. Your team picks one up and sits back down.

The boxes are made in our kitchen in this building on the morning of your meeting. They are not a tray that arrived on a truck at nine.

What is in every box

- A full sandwich on a ciabatta roll, your guest's choice of three
- A bag of chips
- A 16.9 oz bottle of water
- A cookie from our bakery
- Lettuce, tomato and condiments packed on the side, so nothing is soggy by noon
- A cutlery kit and a napkin
- A kraft box with a labeled lid, the same box our corporate lunches go out in

What is in the room

- Tables and chairs set to your layout, whether that is a boardroom, a U shape, classroom rows or rounds
- Linen on the food table and the check-in table
- One host on site for your whole block
- Setup and cleaning, both outside your time
- Guest Wi-Fi
- Three TV screens with HDMI, for your slides
- House sound with Bluetooth, and an ice water station
- Free parking, two restrooms, and a room you are not sharing

Each guest picks their own

Tell us how many of each and we will label the lids. Mixed orders are normal. Five ham, four turkey and three veggie is a perfectly good order.

A note on what this is

Bon Appetit Grill is a Haitian and Caribbean kitchen, and a sandwich box is not Haitian food. We built it anyway, because a 9 AM training session does not want griot. If your meeting does want griot, ask us for The Working Lunch instead. Same room, same hourly rate.

Tell us about allergies and dietary needs when you pick your menu. We make these here, so we can work around most of them. Gluten-free bread is available with five business days notice.

The terms, in plain language

When you can book it	Monday to Thursday, any block between 8:00 AM and 4:00 PM.
How long	Two hours minimum, four hours maximum on this rate. Five hours or more is our Gold package, $1,500 on a weekday for six hours, with food quoted separately.
How many people	Twelve boxes are included. Boxes 13 to 24 are $12 each. Boxes 25 to 40 are $30 each. Above 40 we quote from the catering menu.
Holding the date	$250 holds it, and it comes off your balance. The rest is due the day of.
Your box counts	Five business days before. Your final headcount three business days before.
Changing your mind	Seven days out or more, your $250 moves to another date. Inside seven days we keep it, because the food is already bought.
What is not in the price	Florida sales tax. Nothing else. There is no service charge and no delivery fee.
